What's on at King St

BRISBANE CYCLING FESTIVAL

BRISBANE
CYCLING FESTIVAL
PRESENTED BY KING ST

Can you hear the rhythmic beat of the cleats, clip-clopping around King St? Brisbane Cycling Festival is at King St for its 3rd year and this year we are excited to have both start and finish lines for Tour de Brisbane at King St.

The festival will open with the launch of the Australian Red Cross's new fundraising initiative, the Human Race. This new initiative challenges participants to run, walk, swim, or cycle 26 km during the month of March. The Brisbane Cycling Festival is providing participants with the rare chance to complete their kilometers on a closed circuit in Bowen Hills on Friday evening from 3-5pm (right before King St Kick It Street Criterium). Join us in showing support for the Australian Red Cross and their commitment to the resilience and wellbeing of the 26 million people living in Australia.

KING ST KICK IT STREET CRITERIUM

We're keeping the festivities moving with the King St Kick It Criterium later in the evening, where those with a need for speed will be racing around a 900m course in Fortitude Valley and vying for that almighty podium finish. The streets will be pumping with music, lights, and fans cheering on their favourite racer.

ACTIVE LIFESTYLE EXPO

For those fitness enthusiasts who like to be up to date with the latest trends, the Active Lifestyle Expo will be running all weekend, Saturday 1 April: 9am-6pm and Sunday 2 April: 9am-4pm. This health and wellness event, located in Brisbane Showgrounds, will showcase industry-leading vendors and the newest products and trends in wellness, fitness, nutrition, cycling and more.

TOUR DE BRISBANE

The festival will close out with the huge Australian Unity Tour De Brisbane on Sunday. With the start and finish line on King St and over 110km of fully closed city streets, there will be rides of all different lengths and difficulties for all abilities to join in the fun and make a difference. This year the ride is looking to raise over 5,600 hours of medical research for organ transplant, heart disease, lung disease, dementia and mental health.

It's almost time to abdicate the throne as Eat Like a King wraps up soon. All month, King Street eateries have been plating up some delicious deals for every occasion. With offers to help you snack, feast and indulge like a King, there's been plenty of ways to get a taste of the action. If you haven't managed to sink your teeth into one of these delectable dishes, don't worry, as the offer has been extended until April 2nd! So why not take yourself on a culinary journey through these inviting venues, your tastebuds (and wallet) will thank you for it.

Snack on $8 baos at Xin Chao, with flavours including crispy chicken, soy glazed tofu, and pork belly.

Refuel after your ride with homemade banana bread and espresso butter from Kuhl Cher for only $8.50.

Grab a friend and give each other food envy with $10 loaded pretzels served up two different ways at Winghaus

Don't forget the sides! With finger licking wings and super fries for $9 and a killer cherry ripe shake for $10 at Super Combo Burgers, these are some sensational sidekicks you won't wanna miss.

What better way to feast than with a banquet? Fat Dumpling is offering the Chef's Banquet, including a glass of house wine, for just $38 per person.

Grab your partner, bestie, or whoever you can convince to come Feast like a King because Il Verde is offering up a mouth watering deal. Enjoy any one starter to share, two mains of your choosing as well as two desserts. Pair this a drink each of prosecco, Peroni, lager, red or white wine, all for $69 per person Feast on a succulent angus rump steak at Six Acres Restaurant with signature crunchy fries and a garden salad for only $55 - and sip on a house red, white or sparkling while you feast.

Enjoy mouth watering 18-hour slow cooked lamb shoulder with toasted pita, persian salad, and tzatziki for just $24 at Kuhl Cher.

Montrachet certainly knows how to serve a feast fit for a King. For only $145 you can enjoy a five-course chef's menu featuring the finest produce available for the week.

Feel like feasting at home? Go on and grab a pre-made meal from King Street Bakery. Meals are available from $10 with discounts for the more you stock up.

Community Grants

Are you ready to make a real difference in your community? We're here to help.

The King St Community Grants Program is offering a $10,000 funding pool for projects, initiatives or events that will benefit the local community and precinct of King St. These could be anything from improving social, environmental or economic outcomes to engaging artists in creating artwork.

Your project could make a real difference to people's lives, and we want to hear about it. Partnering with Lendlease and the Community Enterprise Foundation, this program showcases our commitment to creating the best places for those who live, work and enjoy King St.

Take the plunge now and make an impact on your community. Apply for the King St Community Grant by 5 May 2023!

Shop for Her Launch

Shop for Her celebrated the opening of a brand new boutique right on King Street with bargains for all you frugal fashionistas! This boutique is a social enterprise of Suited to Success and Dress for Success Brisbane. The boutique allows shoppers to pay it forward as proceeds from all sales go towards supporting clients through a variety of programs. Enjoy guilt free, sustainable shopping with a curated weekly capsule collection of high-quality, designer clothing and accessories all at heavily discounted prices.

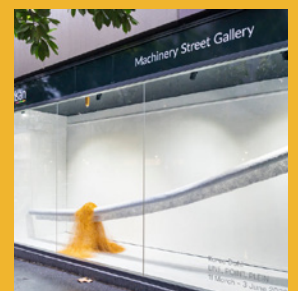

Inkuntji at Artisan

You may have noticed Artisan's windows looking extra colourful lately with Inkuntji Style showing in the main gallery. The display takes you through the beautiful design-led journey of the Inkuntji Artists brand. Established in Central Australia in 1992 by First Nations women, Inkuntji Artists was the first arts centre of its kind and the first to release its own textile collection. The brand has seen huge growth since then and positioned itself firmly as a style leader, with designs highly sought after around the world. Inkuntji Style will be showing until June 3 so make sure you pop in to check out the stunning collection of fashion, homewares, furnishings and art by these talented artists.

Be sure to check out the 24 hour viewing space at Machinery Street Gallery, while you're there. The beautiful installation, Line, Point, Plein by artist Karee Dahl will be showing until 3 June. The masses of tangled gold thread will move throughout the day, piling, spreading and spilling across the space, creating a dynamic viewing experience.

Welcome the New Neighbours!

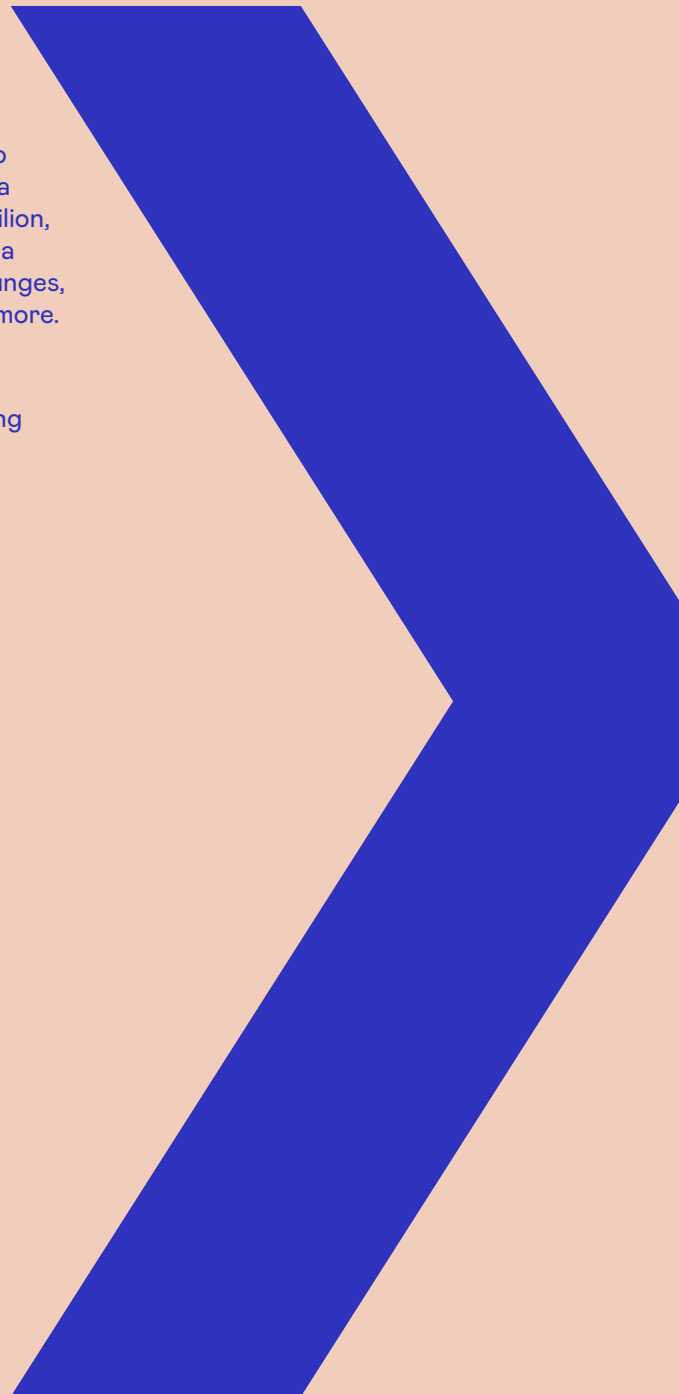

Exhibition Quarter is the exciting new residential development coming to the Brisbane Showgrounds Precinct.

Renters rejoice! There will be 443 residences on offer and dedicated to renters only. With a variety of studio, one, two and three bedroom apartments, there will be plenty to choose from.

Expect facilities galore! Residents will be treated to premium amenities and communal spaces including a lush 25 metre lap pool with a beach edge, BBQ pavilion, fully equipped gym, coworking facilities, outdoor spa retreat, dog wash facilities, yoga room, resident lounges, podcast/ music recording studios and much much more.

The construction wizards at Hutchinson Builders expect the development to be completed by later 2025 in a project that will be fully electric and aiming for a 5 star Green Star Buildings Version 1 rating.

Get ready to welcome your new neighbours to the block and check out these beautiful renderings of what's to come!

Book Club

Already falling behind on that New Year's resolution to read more? Make sure you check out this month's book club thanks to Avid Reader. Pop down on April 18th to be guided through a discussion of Kevin Jared Hosein's Hungry Ghosts. Hot off the presses and already receiving rave reviews, Hungry Ghosts will take you on a journey through 1940's Trinidad. As two families collide, themes of colonialism, religion, violence, family and class are all explored, while a chilling mystery unfolds. As always, a copy of the book, some delicious King street eats and a glass of wine will all be included in your ticket price.

Easter

If, like us, you agree that it's never too early for hot cross buns, hop into King Street Bakery! Not only will you be delighted by the famous hot cross buns, there will also be a variety of Easter treats including the beautifully decorated chocolate Easter hen. These chocolatey chooks are filled with an assortment of milk white and dulcify chocolates. So go on and crack one open, we know you want to.

The Tivoli is bringing the laughs this May

The Tivoli will host some of Australia's most hilarious comedians during the Brisbane Comedy Festival this May. Legendary acts like Peter Helliar, Anne Edmonds, Tom Ballard and Brisbane's own Mel Buttle will put on performances that are sure to have you in stitches. Jump onto the Tivoli's website and book yourself in for a night of fun.

Experience a sugar rush at Brisbane Showgrounds

Satisfy that sweet tooth at the International Cake Show from the 13-15 May. Head down to Brisbane Showgrounds and be delighted with over 90 free demonstrations, jaw-dropping cake displays, celebrity chefs, giveaways and more. The Super Star Stage will host the two day International Cake-Off Challenge, where six of the world's greatest cake artists battle it out for the world title.

Think you've got what it takes to battle it out with the best of them? Why not join the cake and cookie decorating competition? With categories for all levels to enter, and up to $30k in cash prizes up for grabs, there's no excuse not to!

Dogs of King Street

We love seeing your furry four-pawed friends strutting down King St! Next time you and your best friend are out for a walkies remember to snap a shot and tag us. And why not treat your pooch to a puppuccino at one of our dog friendly cafes, Musette and Kuhl-Cher, it's sure to get those tails wagging.

Common Barbershop

Have you spotted The Common Barbershop? This new establishment is the perfect combination of style and skill, offering professional haircuts for all, men, women and children.

The Common Barbershop also offers additional services to finish your look including eyebrows and beards. There's even an onsite café providing great coffee while you wait!

Visit and see what they have in store for you today!

A King St love story

Vanisha and Theo met whilst working at a barbershop on King Street and now years later they're back at 20 King Street, but this time with a baby of their own. The Common Barbershop is their 3-month-old newborn, and they couldn't be prouder!

In their time away from the street Vanisha and Theo have jumped around a bit. From apprenticeships in salons, cutting hair out of their own apartment and a small studio in Newstead, it's all been part of the journey to come back home to King St. With the support of friends and family they were able to complete the whole fit out themselves and the space looks fantastic!

When an opportunity came up to open a space on King Street they jumped at the chance. For Vanisha, it was super important to have feet on the ground and talking to customers. In fact, you'll find Theo behind the chair, cutting 5 days a week and Vanisha smiling from the coffee window 4-5 days a week. Theo says he's already feeling the support from the community "we've felt so welcomed and have even had some clients from our Emporium days recognise us and say hey!" Having been open for 3 months now they're really getting into a good groove but already have exciting things planned! Vanisha and Theo say they'd love to explore adding food to the space and just need to figure it all out, so watch this space!
